People can recognize the shape they want and make their own decision about how they'll use it — that's the key to Gender X.The line includes an array of shapes, sizes and categories, from wands to quadruple stimulators, neon-clear plugs and strokers. Kits, remote toys and partner play products are also included. The line emphasizes form and function over gender suggestion or niche marketing. The simple, unspecific packaging is the point. There is no prescribed way to play — find what you like and choose your own adventure. Gender X is pure
