Opis produktu

Our E-Stim Vibes are the first and only toys that have you enjoy both vibration and electrical stimulation at once and they don't even need a nerve stimulator kit for it. Our Eric has not one but two vibration motors: one in the tip and one in the shaft. In 8 different programmes and 5 different intensity levels, these two work together to provoke some ecstasy in a nicely varied array of ways. The E-Stim Vibe's 5 electrical stimulation programmes is set on bringing you a tingly new sensation, and you can choose between 10 different levels of intensity. Eric's conductive surfaces run the length of his body to make the stimulation as smooth and broad as possible. Our Electric Eric also has a training programme that strengthens the muscles in your pelvic floor which verifiably enhances the ladies' ability to reach an orgasm. The three different functions are easily controlled via the buttons in the handle. You can choose whether you want e-stim and vibration together or only one of them. He comes with a built-in long-life lithium-ion battery that is rechargeable via a Mystim magnet charge USB cable which is, of course, included in the delivery. Even if you have both e-stim and vibrations set to their highest levels, a fully charged Eric runs for at least 3 hours before his efficacy starts to fade.
